POWER FAILURE AT KUALA LUMPUR AIR TRAFFIC CONTROL CENTER (KLATCC), SEPANG, SELANGOR

PUTRAJAYA – The Civil Aviation Authority of Malaysia (CAAM) confirms that a power failure at Kuala Lumpur Air Traffic Control Centre (KLATCC) in Sepang, Selangor occurred at 1:41pm on Tuesday, 14 February 2023. All air traffic control operations were immediately transferred to the business continuity control facility while the technical malfunction is being rectified. This is to ensure minimal disruption to flight operations and in accordance with the Business Continuity Plan (BCP).

All arrivals and departures into Kuala Lumpur Flight Information Region (KL FIR) are subjected to air traffic flow management. CAAM regrets the inconvenience this disruption has caused to all affected passengers and assures there is no compromise to the safety and security of air traffic control operations.
